

Mission:

RipplAffect was founded on the premise that art can impact social change and healing. It exists to raise awareness of violence and abuse in our community and to promote empathy and understanding for survivors.

Through theatre and the visual arts, RipplAffect will provide an outlet for expression, a forum for community education and healing and support for local organizations that specialize in issues affecting women and families.

Values:

We are guided by our beliefs that one person acting in good conscience can change the world; that it is our responsibility to stand for those who cannot stand for themselves; that no one should be afraid to wake up in her own home; and that those who have suffered deserve empathy and support not isolation and judgment.
